Re: Security Breach Notification

Dear Ms. Ayotte:

Pursuant to New Hampshire Rev. Stat. Ann. §359-C:20(I)(b), Administaff is notifying you of a potential information security breach involving the personal information of approximately four hundred New Hampshire residents. An Administaff laptop computer containing personal information was recently reported missing. We sincerely regret this incident. We take the protection of personal information extremely seriously.

We have filed a police report with the appropriate local law enforcement agency, and we have also conducted our own internal investigation. As of the date of this letter, our investigation strongly indicates that this was a random event and that the personal information was not specifically targeted. In addition and in accordance with best practices for password level security, the laptop computer itself is protected with a sophisticated password. Based on the information we have to date, we have no reason to believe that the personal information has been accessed or used improperly.

Administaff is taking steps to notify the affected individuals. We anticipate letters being sent to the affected individuals during the week of October 15, 2007. As a precaution, we are offering all affected individuals one year of credit monitoring with fraud resolution assistance from Equifax, at no cost, to help guard against identity theft.

Administaff will continue to monitor this situation closely. Maintaining the integrity of confidential information is extremely important to us, and we will continue to take appropriate measures to safeguard personal information.

If you have any questions regarding this incident, please do not hesitate to contact us.

Sincerely yours,
