A small piece of malicious computer code was uploaded to the server handling our check-out process. At various times, this malicious code captured and transmitted screen shots of check-out pages. Whether the originator of this code captured any personal information or credit card data depends on what was visible at the moment of the screen capture. This malicious file included code which enabled access to shopping cart information prior to data being transferred to our credit card processing company.

After completely an analysis of this incident, information from three (3) New Hampshire residents was potentially compromised. Notification will be released to the three (3) New Hampshire residents on or about May 23rd 2014.

Sincerely,

Ray Ferrara, CPP, CFE, MBCI
Director of Security
