Dear Sir or Madam:

The purpose of this letter is to notify you that the Tatum division of SFN Professional Services LLC ("Tatum") recently discovered on March 24, 2010 that employee information about 2 New Hampshire residents, including name, address and Social Security Number, may have been compromised. Tatum's investigation is still ongoing, but it appears that a portable storage device was stolen from an employee's car in Atlanta, Georgia.

After this incident was discovered, Tatum immediately reported the theft to local law enforcement authorities in Atlanta, and launched an internal investigation. We retained a security consultant and a data recovery and analysis firm to confirm the scope of the potential compromise. We are reviewing our data security policies and procedures to ensure that this incident does not repeat. In particular, we are prohibiting by company policy the downloading of sensitive personal information onto unencrypted external devices where feasible. We are also offering the affected employees credit monitoring services. We have no evidence at this time that any of the personal information on the stolen computer equipment has been used for fraudulent purposes.

Attached please find the draft letter that we have sent to the known affected individuals on April 7, 2010. Please contact me right away at the phone number or email address indicated above in the event that you have any questions regarding this matter.

Sincerely,

Joy E. Barbour

[Insert address]

Dear _____:

I am writing to notify you that the Tatum division of SFN Professional Services LLC ("Tatum") recently discovered on March 24, 2010 that your personal information may have been compromised. In particular, it is possible that an unauthorized person may be in possession of your name, address and Social Security Number. We are still investigating the details of this incident, but it appears that computer equipment containing the information was stolen from an employee's car.

We take this potential breach of our data seriously, and we deeply regret that this incident has occurred. We have reported this incident to local law enforcement personnel. In addition, we are redoubling our efforts to protect data of this kind, including reviewing our existing data security policies and procedures.

To protect against possible identity theft or other financial loss, we encourage you to review your bank account statements, monitor your credit reports, and take other appropriate actions as provided below.

- Out of an abundance of caution, in order to help you detect the possible misuse of your information, we are providing you with a free one-year membership in ProtectMyID™ from ConsumerInfo.com, Inc. an Experian® company to provide you with world-class credit monitoring capabilities and in-depth assistance in every aspect of identity theft protection including $1 Million Product Guarantee*. ProtectMyID is completely free and enrolling in this program will not hurt your credit score. * Unfortunately, regulatory restrictions do not allow Experian to make this Product Guarantee available to residents of New York.
 - First step: activate your complete credit monitoring product from Experian.
 - To activate your complimentary one year membership in ProtectMyID from Experian, visit the website listed below and enter your individual activation code. If you prefer, you can enroll on the phone by speaking with Experian Customer Care representatives toll-free at (877) 441-6943.
 - ProtectMyID Web Site: <http://www.protectmyid.com/enroll>
 - Your Activation Code: [Activation Code]
 - You Must Enroll By: 9/30/10
 - As soon as you enroll in your complimentary ProtectMyID membership, Experian will begin to monitor your credit reports from Experian, Equifax® and TransUnion® on a daily basis and notify you of key changes. This powerful tool will help you identify potentially fraudulent use of your information, and provide you with immediate assistance from a dedicated team of fraud resolution representatives should you ever need help.
- We have provided names and contact information for the three major U.S. credit bureaus below. At no charge, you can have the agency place a "fraud alert" on your file that alerts creditors to take additional steps to verify your identity prior to granting credit in your name. This service can make it more difficult for someone to get credit in your name.

Note, however, that because it tells creditors to follow certain procedures to protect you, it also may delay your ability to obtain credit while the agency verifies your identity. As soon as one credit bureau confirms your fraud alert, the others are notified to place fraud alerts on your file. Should you wish to place a fraud alert, or should you have any questions regarding your credit report, please contact any one of the agencies listed below.

Experian: 888-397-3742; www.experian.com; P.O. Box 9532, Allen, TX 75013
Equifax: 800-525-6285; www.equifax.com; P.O. Box 740241, Atlanta, GA 30374-0241
TransUnion: 800-680-7289; www.transunion.com; Fraud Victim Assistance Division, P.O. Box 6790, Fullerton, CA 92834-6790

- You are also entitled under U.S. law to one free credit report annually from each of the three major credit bureaus. To order your free credit report, visit www.annualcreditreport.com or call toll-free (877) 322-8228. For additional information on how to further protect yourself against identity theft, you may wish to visit the web site of the U.S. Federal Trade Commission at www.consumer.gov/idtheft or reach the FTC at 1-877-382-4357 or 600 Pennsylvania Avenue, NW, Washington, DC 20580.

All questions concerning this incident should be directed to Jeanne Tromp, Associate Counsel, at 404.880.1324.

Again, we deeply regret this incident and any inconvenience or concern it may cause you. We are working diligently to investigate and resolve the matter, and prevent similar incidents in the future.

Sincerely,

Rich D'Amaro
President
